

Harmony's Vision

Our Mission

To share life, love and joy through adoption

Our Service Philosophy

Our focus is the child.

Reflected in all our actions are the needs of the child, first and foremost. This focus is the foundation of each program and is evident in Harmony's communications, services, and relationships.

Every child has the right to a safe and healthy family.

We work to ensure that our families are able to promote their child's health, safety and emotional well-being through assessment, education, treatment and support.

Excellence is our standard not our goal.

We do not compromise the quality of care. Each program's design is based on nationally held standards for excellence. In formal and informal ways we continually ask our clients, funding sources, and staff, "How are we doing?" Program changes are made based on these evaluations, industry trends, and research.

We value our staff.

We respect our staff by providing the education, tools, and support they need to be the best. We value the work that we do by valuing the people who do the work. We strive for a culture of inclusion where constructively challenging the ideas and thoughts of one another is encouraged.

We respect the rights of both our adoptive and birth parents.

We accept and address the needs of both adoptive and birth parents while maintaining a focus on the child's best interest.

We value education.

Knowledge is empowering. We create and deliver vital education opportunities for our children, families and communities.

Collaboration is the hallmark of our services.

We believe that combining skills, perspective, and ingenuity further our mission. To that end, we develop national and local partnerships with the confidence that together we make a difference for those we serve.

Our programs are unique, innovative and essential.

Through research, creativity, and experience, we design programs that meet the diverse and complex needs of our children, families, and communities.
